

Polycom VVX Business IP Phones Comparison

The key differences between models are LCD display size/resolution and color options, and available number of lines. VVX 300/400/500/600 have been replaced by models with superior CPU/memory allotment in the VVX301/401/501/601. VVX 310/410 with upgraded dual-port Gigabit Ethernet switch have been replaced by VVX 311/411 with upgraded CPU and memory. VVX 500/600 and their replacement VVX 501/601 both have dual-port Gigabit Ethernet switches and touch screen displays.

The new x50 model series feature a minimalist redesign at a significantly lower price point.
